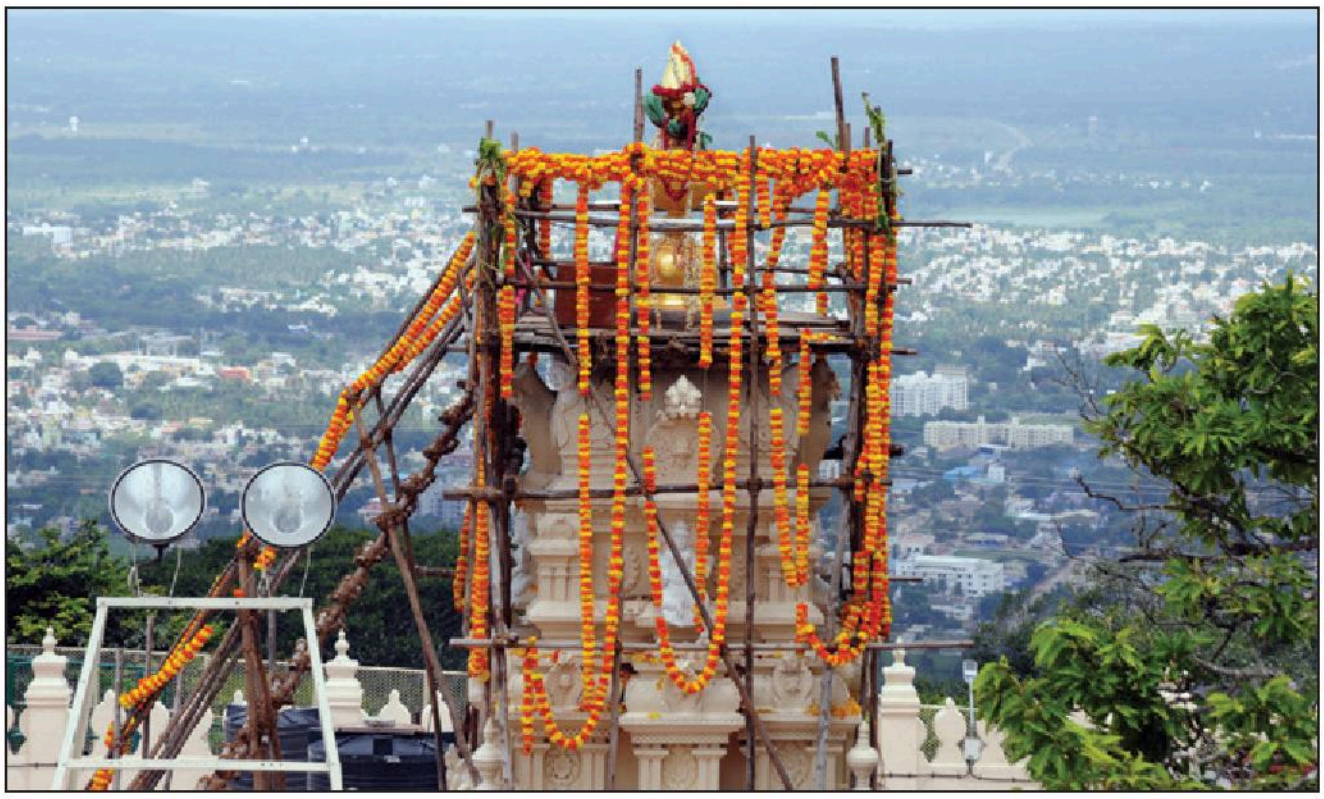
Kumbhabhisheka atop Hill

Thousands witness rituals at Chamundeshwari Temple on last day



Mysuru, June 25 (MTY&DM)- Thousands of devotees thronged the Chamundeshwari temple atop Chamundi Hill this morning to pay their obeisance to the deity on the last day of the three-day Kumbhabhisheka, marking the renovation of Rajagopura, Vimana Gopura and Dhwaja Sthambha of the hill temple.

About 70 sculptors and other skilled workers from Tamil Nadu had been working on the renovation (jeernodhara) over the past 18 months, which is done once in twelve years. This time, TVS factory in Nanjangud had sponsored the renovation.

While the Rajagopura is about 115 ft. tall, the Vimana Gopura is 45 ft. tall and the Dhwaja Sthambha nearly 30 ft. in height.

With the Kumbhabhisheka taking place in the auspicious Simha Lagna between 9.55 am and 10.10 am, the temple was closed for the devotees from 9.30 am to 11 am.

Long queues were seen atop the temple, as devotees waited patiently for their turn to offer prayers to the deity on the special occasion.

The temple Chief Priest N. Shashishekar Dikshit, Executive Officer K.M. Prasad, Muzrai Tahsildar Yathiraj Sampath Kumaran, Temple Management Committee President D. Kalaiah, Trustees Mahesh, Shivalingaiah, V.C. Kumari, Shashikala, Sakanna, Uttanahalli Shivanna and others were present.

The three-day Kumbhabhisheka rituals had commenced on Saturday evening (June 23) with Aalaya pravesha.

Man assaults girl returning from party

Police on the hunt to nab accused

Umesh

Vivek

Mysuru, June 25 (RK&KS)- Even as the pub assault case of Mohammed Nalapad, son of MLA N.A. Haris, in Bengaluru is fresh in the minds of people, a girl student has been allegedly assaulted by her friend's husband and his accomplices near a Pub in V.V. Mohalla here on Saturday evening. The girl, who was assaulted, has been identified as 21-year-old Mahalakshmi, a resident of Vijayanagar 3rd Stage in city.

It is said, the Mahalakshmi, after attending a party along with her friend Amrutha, on Saturday at the Pub near Panchavati Circle in V.V. Mohalla, came out only to be confronted by Amrutha's husband Umesh Kumar and his accomplice Vivek.

They reportedly behaved in an indecent manner and assaulted Mahalakshmi with a dagger over an old enmity involving a case in Maddur. It is said that there is a divorce case between Amrutha and Umesh.

In her complaint, Mahalakshmi has stated that Umesh and Vivek pushed her around and even tore her clothes. Later, Ravish and Dinesh, who were with Umesh, joined the two and abused her using foul language besides threatening her with life if she complained to the Police. Following the incident, Mahalakshmi lodged a complaint against them at Jayalakshmipuram Police Station on Sunday. Meanwhile, Jayalakshmipuram Police Inspector Prakash told Star of Mysore this morning that they have registered a case against Umesh and added that they will arrest him soon.

Stating that they have launched a hunt to nab Umesh, the Inspector said that they would also arrest the remaining accused only if Mahalakshmi or Umesh identify them.

Melange of merit and mediocrity

Country-wise stock-taking of economic health is a modern annual exercise in many countries across the world, including India. Currently, the index of that feature as it changes either progressively or regressively from a given year to the next is expressed by the term GDP (Gross Domestic Product), regularly appearing in bold print of dailies but not taken note of by lay readers. While India's GDP is touted to be rising in recent years at a rate receiving accolades from global financial bodies such as the World Bank, International Monetary Fund and Asian Development Bank, all of which are regularly providing funds for carrying out both projects and programmes in the country to sustain welfare of people identified under well-marked sections of society, Prime Minister Narendra Modi has sounded optimistic while setting an annual increment in double digit percent compared to the present rate hovering below eight percent annually. India's three major sectors namely, agriculture, industry and services are required to strengthen their sinews to a higher degree than at present in order to realise the PM's optimistic goal. That brings us to the point of debating the factors of merit and mediocrity of India's human resources, which is truly a melange of both factors.

We are obliged to be vigilant about the volatility of the scenario of life at large seen in different perspectives through the prism of competence to sustain ourselves as time passes. In this context, it may be appropriate to cite the insight provided by the legendary biologist Charles Darwin (1809-1882) in his classical work On The Origin of Species enunciating the principle of survival of the fittest.

Even the uninitiated lay people are able to make out the differences in the levels of excellence or otherwise of achievers or the non-achievers in various fields of human endeavour. Speakers addressing their captive audiences from various platforms to express their lament on the falling standards in virtually all fields such as literature, music, administration, public conduct, education, research, civil works, products of manufacturing industries, processed foods in the consumer market, cinema, services for which public pay as per stipulated in the system, raw materials needed by the construction industry and what have you, is common knowledge.

Criticising the players for their poor track record in any of the aforementioned pursuits doesn't need knowledge or rocket science as it were. When chips are down, the society gets the products and services its members deserve for their unacceptable laxity. India undoubtedly hosts human resources that the land can create a healthier melange of merit and mediocrity. Where there is a will, there is a way, as the saying goes.

DESPERATE MEASURES: Air India's austerity drive has now started to draw hilarious responses from employees. Frustrated by the delay in payment of salaries and allowances, a Commander of Air India shot off a dire note to the management. In an e-mail, he wrote that he had been forced to sell his laptop and iPad due to financial constraints. The pilot further mentioned that not having a laptop has impacted his professional knowledge and ended the letter with a warning that the management would be held responsible for any deficiency or safety lapse on his part. 14 months to create Ghost Pirate Ship

London: Artist Jason Stieva's most intricate and impressive creation is the Leviathan – Ark of Apocalypse, an 8 ft. tall, 7.5 ft. long Ghost Ship with hundreds of strange creatures which took him 14 months to complete.

Jason admits that the Leviathan – Ark of the Apocalypse was his most daunting project ever. This ghostly ship is brimming with detail. From the steampunk-inspired gears at the bottom of the ship and the dozens of cannons dominating its sides, to the hundreds of skeletons and other ghastly creatures populating its deck and multiple crow's nests. "Sourcing the characters took time. Redesigning, taking apart, rebuilding, and making the ark structurally sound took quite a while," Jason said.

Even though the sculpture was completed in 2014, Jason Stieva still visits it in his clients' house every once in a while,.

Alcoholic ice cream that can get you drunk

Las Vegas: Buzz Pop Cocktails, a range of gourmet Italian sorbets that pack that punch you've been looking for. The Cocktails are made from fresh fruits and premium liquors, but what really sets them apart from other boozy frozen treats is the alcohol content.

While most so-called alcoholic ice-creams have an alcohol content comparable to beer, Buzz Pop Cocktails are three times stronger, which means one is probably enough to get your head buzzing. They come in packs of eight at $99.99 and if you want them delivered to your door, you'll have to cough up an extra $34.95 for shipping. They are available in Pink Paradise, Southern Belle, Blueberry Mania, Mango Passion Fruit, Caribbean Breeze, Moscow Mule, Watermelon Patch and Lemon Drop Martini flavours – but the company claims to have a total of 75 flavors.

Install speed-breakers on Bogadi Road towards Gangothri

Sir,

The Bogadi Road leading to Manasagangothri where Kuvempu Statue is erected is badly in need of a speed-breaker. Some motorists, especially two-wheelers, are driving at a rattling speed on this stretch. This in turn may cause serious accidents, especially to the motorists coming in opposite direction.

Also there is no divider on this stretch. Accidents may prove fatal if there is no coordination between the vehicles coming in the opposite directions. In fact I had written on earlier occasions also to provide a divider on this stretch but till today the authorities concerned have not responded.

This is a very serious matter especially during peak hours when the University students and office-goers are plying in this stretch. Once again I appeal to the authorities to provide a divider and a speed-breaker before any untoward incidents occur on this stretch.

Effective waste segregation helps Hunsur bag Best City Award in Solid Waste Management

Mysuru, June 25 (BCT)- Hunsur has won the South Zone Award for Best City in Solid Waste Management (SWM) while the Heritage City of Mysuru has slipped into eighth position in the Swachh Survekshan 2018 from the fifth position it achieved in 2017. The rankings were released in New Delhi on June 25 by the Union Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs. Hunsur has scored 280 out of 476 marks in the SWM indicators which include segregation of waste in a majority of Wards.

Speaking to SOM, Parvathi Devi, the Swachh Survekshan Nodal Officer, who is also the Executive Officer of Hunsur City Municipal Council and Environment Engineer K.P. Ravikumar said that they have been practicing waste segregation since the last six years and waste that is collected from all the 27 Wards are efficiently segregated. For this, Pourakarmikas and members of Women's Self Help Groups are involved and they play an active role here.

Hunsur Municipal Council was established in 1925 and it stretches to an area of 10.36 kilometres and has 27 Wards with a population of 50,865. Every day, 21.86 tonnes of waste is generated.

"We segregate waste at a majority of Wards and we have made several inroads towards efficient solid waste management like transporting the waste collected for processing on the same day, transforming the garbage vulnerable points, developing a landfill and processing a large amount of wet waste," Ravikumar said.

Women's Self Help Groups and Pourakarmikas carry out door-to-door garbage collection by using 30 pushcarts. There are three zones for monitoring door-to-door collection where each zone contains nine Wards. There is one auto tipper for secondary transport. All the wet waste is being transported into auto tipper and dry waste are filled into polythene bags that are attached to each vehicle.

"This is being transported to processing plant every day. In addition, we have set up a landfill site of about 4.5 acres and is situated 4.5 kilometres away from Hunsur. The waste is brought to the landfill site by auto tippers and tractor trailers. Wet waste will be re-segregated by workers within the plant. Once segregated, the waste is treated and compost is made," Ravikumar explained.

Mixed waste from road sweeping and drainage cleaning is dumped in heaps and turned periodically for aeration after 45 days. "Later, both the treated waste and the wet waste is screened by rotary screen and dumped into compost pits," he said.

Once compost is generated, it is sold to farmers at competitive rates. According to Ravikumar, many farmer-oriented programmes are held by the Hunsur CMC for compost sale.

"Most of the bulk waste comes from hotels, restaurants, marriage halls, and meat stalls and waste collection is managed involving private parties through Public-Private-Partnership (PPP) Model. Food waste from hotels is fed to 100-kg capacity biomethanisation plant installed at the Government Girls Hostel. This plant generates cooking gas to the hostel," Ravikumar said.

This apart, Hunsur CMC conducts regular activities within the city to reach all the educational institutions, households and other stakeholders to meet Open Defecation Free target and better waste management in city. All garbage collection vehicles are being monitored through GPS to meet fuel efficiency and cost reduction. Commercial areas have twice-a-day sweeping facility, he added.

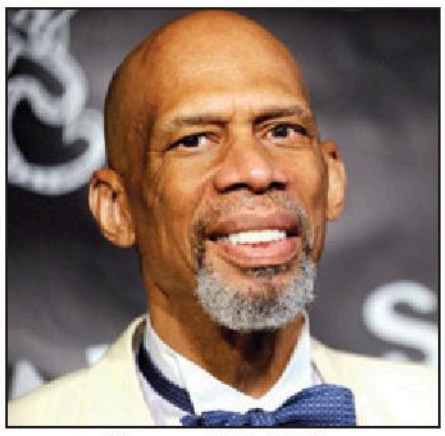
PM Modi's initiative has created

YOGA REVOLUTION

Narendra Modi



Kareem Abdul Jabbar

Mario Gotze

Sachin Tendulkar

By H.R. Bapu Satyanarayana

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, in his address to the United Nations (UN) General Assembly on September 27, 2014 proposed that June 21 may be declared as International Yoga Day as it is the longest day of the year and shares special significance in many parts of the world.

The text of PM's address on the importance of Yoga is as follows:

"Yoga is an invaluable gift of India's ancient tradition. This tradition is 5,000 years old. It embraces unity of mind and body, thought and action restraint and fulfilment, harnessing between man and nature, a holistic approach to health and well-being. It is not about exercise but to discover the sense of oneness with you, the world and nature by changing our lifestyle and creating consciousness, it can help in well-being. Let us work towards adopting an International Yoga Day."

The proposal received support of 177 member States and they adopted a draft resolution and introduced in the General Assembly without a vote — a record resolution. During the first year on June 21, 2015 a large number of dignitaries from 84 nations performed 21 Yogasanas at Rajpath in New Delhi with Modi in the lead.

After this, interest in Yoga grew and many people across the world joined to perform Yogasanas. Later, Modi announced two Yoga Awards, one for International and another National for excellent contribution in the field of Yoga.

This reminds us of what Neil Armstrong said when he landed on the Moon on July 10, 1969: "A small step for man, a giant leap for humanity." In a way, what Modi has initiated in the field of Yoga is embracing humanity to bring peace and harmony in the world wracked by the menace of terrorism.

It is interesting to note the Mysuru connection as Yoga Gurus like Krishnamacharya, Pattabhi Jois and B.K.S. Iyengar who have taken Yoga beyond borders.

Following are the few examples to bring out the efficacy of Yoga:

Case of Kareem Abdul Jabbar

The greatest basket ball player of all times Kareem Abdul Jabbar was taught Yoga by K. Pattabhi Jois. Krishnamacharya, the father of modern Ashtanga Yoga, was his teacher. Jabbar was hooked to Yoga from the age of 14 when he read on the subject.

He says, "There is no way I could have played as I did without Yoga.' He did not retire after the extraordinary 20 years in Pro-Basket Ball. Many consider Abdul Jabbar to be greatest centre, may be greatest player.

He says, "My friends and teammates think I made a deal with the devil. But it was Yoga that made my training complete." Nearly 7-ft tall as 14-year-old and a high school student, Jabbar came across a book on Yoga and immediately saw that Yoga emphasises suppleness, concentration and breathing rather than sheer physical strength. He felt that Yoga could benefit him, particularly breathing.

He says, "Breathing in basket ball is an endurance sport and you have to learn to control your breath. That is the essence of Yoga, so I consciously began to use technique in my practice and playing."

By 1978, Jabbar was routinely doing Yoga exercises as part of training. He adds, "Once I started practicing, I had no muscle injury during my career. Yoga can help any athlete with hip joints, muscles, tendons and knees. It keeps you in touch with the body. His original name was Alcindor and he converted himself to Islam after the 1971 season.

Germany wins 2014 World Soccer Finals

B.K.S. Iyengar's Yoga helped Germany win Soccer World Cup in 2014. Mario Gotze, who scored Germany's winning goal in the final, is Iyengar's disciple along with many in German team.

American yogi Patrick Bloome, speaking about his role in preparing the World Cup champions, says, "Yoga benefits a soccer player in many ways. For a starter, it helps prevent injuries because it makes the body more flexible. It helps build stronger muscles which they usually don't use. During mega championships like the World Cup where there is a lot of pressure, Yoga helps players beat anxiety and nervousness."

Yoga in prisons brings in change

Since 2010, under 'Prison Freedom Project' Yoga classes have been introduced in prisons all over South Africa. The aim is to create an environment conducive to peace, well-being and wholeness. "All I could see in the world was violence, jealousy and anger," says Bradley Hess, an inmate. With Yoga, we are able to keep calm and control our emotions, he says. "Yoga has a way of bringing us into our hearts. All round us there are people in every field creating the life they want to live," he adds.

Tendulkar practices Yoga

Sachin Tendulkar, the little master, who has created record in scoring centuries in cricket says Yoga Guru B.K.S .Iyengar helped him a lot in his career and has been practising ever since.

Modi and Yoga

When Prime Minister Narendra Modi had a one-on-one talk with former US President Barrack Obama during his visit to India as the President, Obama remarked that while he has 4 hours of sleep, Modi slept only for 3 hours.

Indians are aware of Modi's amazing capacity for hard work and despite keeping a punishing schedule he remains fresh and does not exhibit any signs of strain or fatigue. If Modi does not show any signs of tiredness and fatigue, it is because of Yoga. That is how despite being at the receiving end of worst type of unfair criticism, Modi remains like a 'Sthithapragnya,' taking everything in his stride.

Many people perhaps are not aware that long before he became the Prime Minister, Modi went through two months of training in Bengaluru at Arogya Dhama — Swami Vivekananda Yoga Anusandhana Samsthana (S-VYASA) at Jigani under the tutelage of Dr. R. Nagendra, who taught him techniques of breathing, meditation and concentration.

Arogya Dhama has presently become a deemed University. Now, recently the University Grants Commission (UGC) has announced that an Inter-University Centre on Yogic Sciences (IUC-YS) will be established at S-VYASA. It will have the objective of serving as a resource centre in the field of Yogic Sciences catering to the academic and research interest of institutions, faculty and students engaged in the field of Yogic Sciences. The estimated cost to establish the centre is Rs. 100 crore.

Education Minister thinking to introduce 'open book exam' system

Chamarajanagar, June 25 (SS&NNN)- Primary and Secondary Education Minister N. Mahesh did some loud thinking of introducing 'open book exam' system where the students will look into the text books and write the exams.

He was speaking at the Pratibha Puraskar function organised by Bahujan Vidyarthi Sangha (BVS) as part of Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar's birth anniversary celebrations to present awards to students belonging to all sections of the society, who have scored more than 80 per cent in SSLC and more than 75 per cent in PUC examinations, here yesterday.

"It is believed that students in the primary and higher secondary schools who write exams without looking at the books and score high marks are considered intelligent and those who score less as dull. This is not the true method of education. This is an unscientific way of testing the intelligence of a student," he said.

According to Mahesh, this system was implemented by a class which hardly has just two to three in the population and consider itself superior to other communities. However, lot of changes need to be done. The teachers should stop asking the students to write about the subject soon after they finish their classes. Instead of this, the teachers must set questions based on the chapter or lesson they have completed.

The students should be asked write the tests looking into the text books. If they do not know the answers then they must be asked to copy from the student sitting next to him or her. Then students will learn from this exercise over a period of time. They will also become more creative, said the Minister.

"I am not speaking emotionally about all this but I am speaking as the Education Minister. I will discuss this issue with education experts and Department officials. Besides, I plan to conduct a workshop and will weigh all the pros and cons," he said.

At the first stage of primary and secondary education, the students must be imparted quality education. It is sad to see that a person who had passed out of English medium school scoring high marks and drawing a huge salary of Rs.5 lakh per month, committing suicide jumping from a multi-storeyed building after a failed love affair. Is this the kind of education we want? Instead of this the children should be provided quality education based on skill development, said Mahesh.

The teachers, before they go to schools to teach, must leave all their troubles behind at home. If they carry the problems of home to the school, then it will reflect on their teaching and affect the students. "Teachers, please discharge your duties to the best of your ability," he urged the teachers.

Backward Classes Welfare Minister C. Puttaranga Shetty, MP R. Dhruvanarayan, MLC Marithibbegowda, IAS trainer Dr. Shivakumar, rank student Venkatesh Nayak, Deputy Commissioner B.B. Cauvery and others were present.

Anjuman's plea to make Tanveer Sait a Minister

Tanveer Sait

Mysuru, June 25- Anjuman-e-Hadiqatul Adab, Mysuru, in an appeal signed by all its members has urged Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy and Deputy CM Dr. G. Parameshwara to induct MLA Tanveer Sait as a Cabinet Minister considering his seniority and the impressive margin of his victory in the recent Assembly elections.

Syed Shafi Ahmed and S. Moinuddin Pasha, the President and Vice-President respectively of the Anjuman, have stated that Sait was in the middle of many crucial development activities both in his N.R. Constituency and the State which he can carry forward effectively if he becomes a Minister once again.

Unduwadi drinking water project to Mysuru may find mention in budget

G.T. Devegowda

Mysuru, June 25 (SBD&DM)- Minister G.T. Devegowda's ambitious project of bringing drinking water to the city from Hale Unduwadi may see allocation of funds in the State budget to be presented by CM H.D. Kumaraswamy, who also holds the Finance portfolio, on July 5.

GTD as Chamundeshwari MLA had exerted pressure on the previous Congress government for executing the Unduwadi water supply project, that aims to provide drinking water to the city and over 90 villages around the city. Unduwadi is located two kilometres from the upstream of KRS Dam.

Officials from the Karnataka Urban Water Supply and Drainage Board (KUWS&DB), JNNURM and Vani Vilas Water Works, after preparing a Detailed Project Report (DPR), had submitted the DPR to the Government for consideration in Feb. 2015. The cost of the project was then estimated to be Rs. 540 crore.

Now with the JD(S)-Congress coalition government in power and GTD in the Cabinet, the project may find mention in the budget.

A file photo of the KIADB land near Beechanakuppe where the proposed Hale Unduwadi drinking water project will be set up.

The Unduwadi Project will act as a feeder to Central Storage Reservoir (CSR) and High Level Reservoir (HLR) in Yadavagiri, Devanur and Vijayanagar.

The authorities hope to implement the project with a pumping capacity of 150 MLD initially and thereafter enhance the capacity to 300 MLD (Million Litres per Day).

The project, which was supposed to be executed in 2015, has been in limbo for the past three years and with a new government in place, the ambitious drinking water project may see the light of the day.

Meanwhile, the deadlock between the KIADB and the MCC over allotment of the land at Beechanakuppe for the project is yet to be resolved as KIADB has sanctioned that land to a realtor and the government has to intervene and annul the allotment.

As per the requirement of the MCC, the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) had sanctioned land at Beechanakuppe and over 90 acres were allotted. The land is situated at a height and will conveniently pump drinking water to the city. The plan was to pump water from the backwaters at Hale Unduwadi, located two kilometres from KRS Dam, and supply it to Beechanakuppe, where a water treatment plant is proposed to be built.

H. K. Patil

New Delhi/Bengaluru, June 25- Senior Congress leader H. K. Patil is likely to be made the KPCC President as AICC President Rahul Gandhi is keen on giving representation to North Karnataka region.

Though KPCC Working President Dinesh Gundu Rao, former Minister T.B. Jayachandra, former Union Minister K.H. Muniyappa, Rajya Sabha member B. K. Hariprasad and Water Resources Minister D.K. Shivakumar are lobbying for the post, it is learnt that the party top brass is favouring Patil as he is acceptable to all sections of the party, said sources.

He is set to take over as Party Chief from Deputy Chief Minister Dr. G. Parameshwara.

Patil, who was sulking after denial of Ministership in the JD(S)-Congress coalition government, is learnt to have shown inclination to take party responsibility and also, has the backing of most of the senior leaders from the State.

Patil recently met Rahul Gandhi and other senior leaders in the National capital and discussed the political situation in Karnataka.

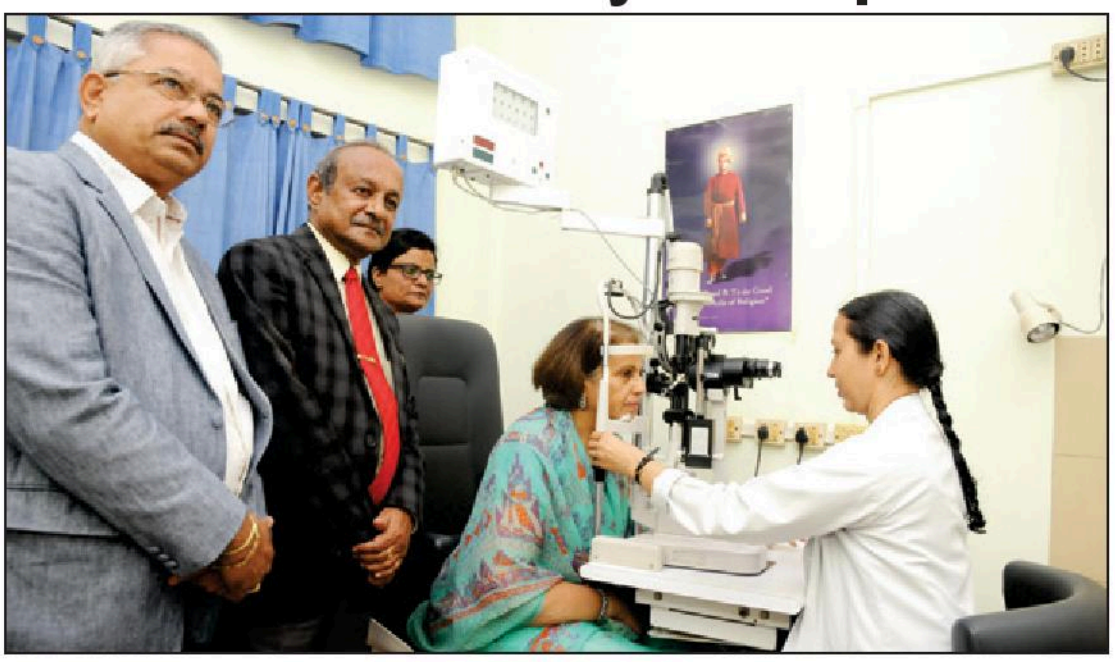
Mega free eye screening camp held at MRC Eye Hospital



Wadiyar Foundation President Pramoda Devi Wadiyar undergoing an eye check-up during the inauguration of free cataract eye screening mega camp at MRC Eye Hospital in city this morning, as MRC Charitable Trust Chairman G. Venkatesh and MRC Eye Hospital Committee Chairman G.K. Balakrishnan look on.

Mysuru, June 25 (PM&NNN)- Nearly 250 people with eye problems participated in a free cataract eye screening mega camp at Mysore Race Club Eye Hospital here this morning.

The camp organised by H.H. Sri Srikantadatta Narasimharaja Wadiyar Foundation (HHSNW) in association with MRC Eye Hospital was inaugurated by the Foundation President Pramoda Devi Wadiyar.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Pramoda Devi said that this is the first initiative of the Foundation, launched in the memory of her late husband Srikantadatta Narasimharaja Wadiyar, in Mysuru and there are plans to involve it in many other social activities in the future.

"The camp has been organised very systematically with clean beds and it is very heartening to see many people from the villages coming to get their eyes screened," she said.

In all more than 250 people from the city and surrounding areas in the District had registered for the camp. MRC Eye Hospital's Dr. M.S. Usha, Chief Ophthalmologist and Dr. M. Brinda Prasad were in charge of the eye camp.

After the screening of the camp which went on till 1 pm, the patients screened for cataract will undergo surgery tomorrow at the hospital and they will be discharged on June 27, said Dr. Usha.

Recalling the contributions of MRC Eye Hospital, Hospital Committee Chairman G.K. Balakrishnan said that it was due to the vision of Ideal Jawa Founder Farrokh Irani that the eye hospital was set up in 1995 and in 23 years of its existence, it has performed over 76,000 eye cataract operations out of which nearly 50,000 have been done free of cost.

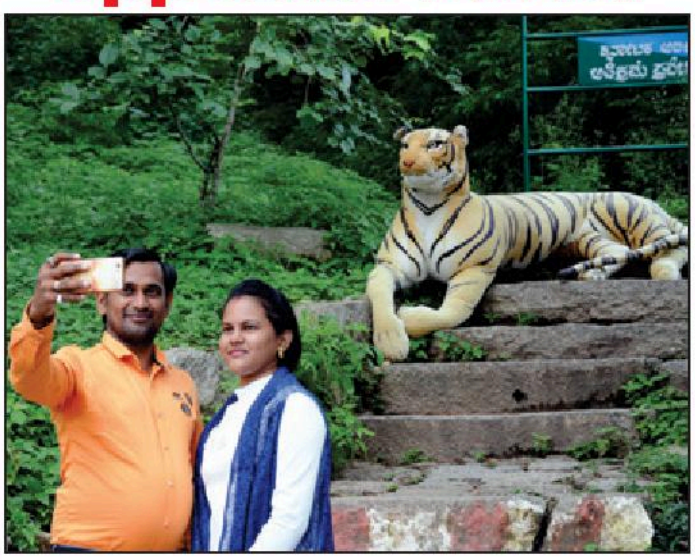
MRC is the only race club to involve in such a noble initiative in the country and it is a matter of credit that since its inception not a single complaint regarding eye surgeries have been reported, he said.

There are also plans to set up an Eye Bank shortly. As part of the outreach programmes, MRC Eye Hospital conducts free eye camps every Monday in Mysuru, Mandya and Kodagu and every third Monday in Nanjangud, he said.

The post graduate students from all over the country come here to learn about cataract surgeries, and the doctors visit schools to enlighten them about eye care and how to protect themselves from fire hazards during Deepavali and other occasions, he said.

MRC Charitable Trust Chairman G. Venkatesh, Hospital Committee Members Dr. N. Nithyananda Rao, Dr. Vijaykumar, Muthappa, Dr. Ajit Kumar Raj Urs, Ambarish Urs, MRC Secretary K.G. Ananth Raj Urs, Foundation Secretary Reginald Wesley and others were present.

New attraction opposite Nandi



Even as the Forest Department has banned entry of tourists to this restricted area opposite Nandi statue atop Chamundi Hill, a photographer with a business acumen has placed a soft toy tiger on the steps leading to the restricted area to make some quick buck. He takes instant photos of tourists for a sum and only then allows them to take a selfie.

Ch. Hill View Point Gate damaged

One of the two View Points (another with a binocular facility) developed with a special platform and steel railings on way to Nandi statue atop Chamundi Hill during last year's Dasara for the tourists to enjoy the panoramic view of the city from the Hilltop now stands neglected with the gate being damaged by miscreants. Will the authorities concerned set right this broken gate before it disappears from the spot?

Elephant chases bus to protect calf

Gundlupet, June 25 (KS)- A female elephant, which was crossing the road with her calf near Molehole in Bandipur Tiger Reserve on Sunday, chased the Calicut-bound KSRTC bus for a distance to allow her calf to cross the road.

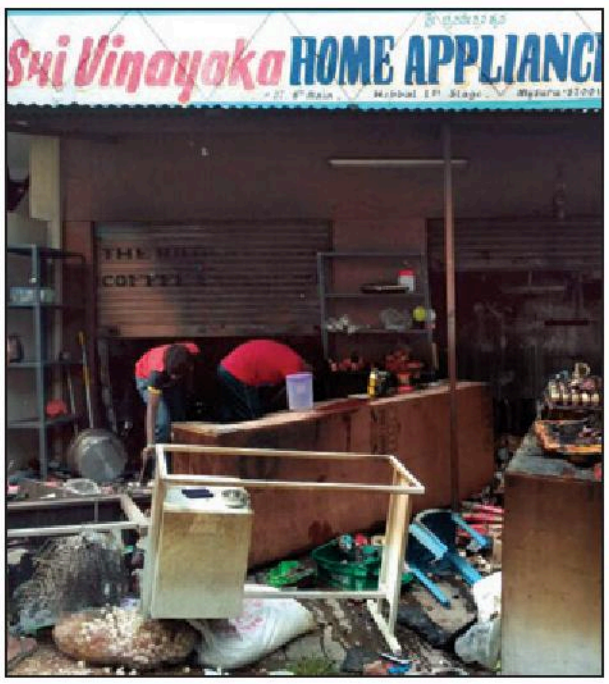
A video of the incident which went viral on the social media yesterday shows the mother and her calf trying to cross the road and as the bus neared them, the mother elephant chased the bus, forcing the driver of the bus to take the bus in a reverse direction.

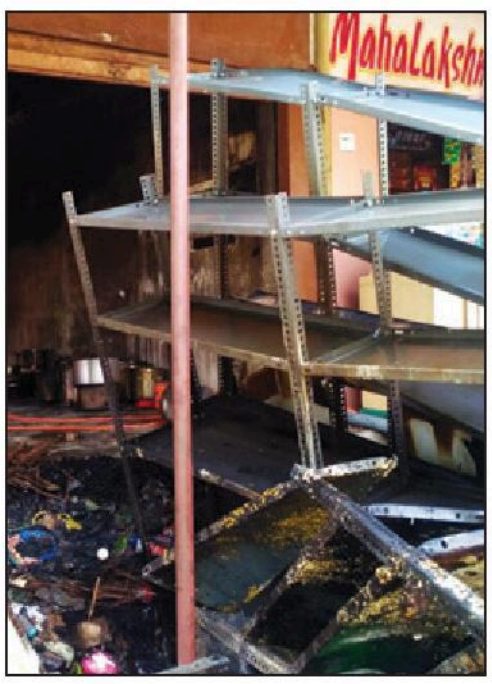
The elephant after chasing the bus to a distance went back to the calf which was standing on the road and went to the other side of the forest. Many passengers in the bus had captured the incident on their mobile phones.

Meanwhile, Forest officials have warned motorists not to venture close to the elephants especially if there is a calf as there are chances of elephants attacking them to protect their young ones which is a natural instinct and added that the motorists should remain silent at a safe distance and proceed further only after the elephants move away with the young ones.

Shops gutted

Articles worth about Rs.7 lakh destroyed





Mysuru, June 25 (RK&KS)- Two shops were gutted in a fire near CITB Choultry at Hebbal in city this morning.

The shops, Sri Vinayaka Home Appliances and a provision store next to it, are owned by one Prabhavathi. The shops were closed since three days as Prabhavathi had gone out of station to attend a function. She had returned yesterday night and was supposed to open the shops today.

Today at about 7 am, Prabhavathi receives a call from her neighbour, who informs her that her shops were on fire. She then rushed to her shop only to see them in flames and immediately informed the Hebbal Police and the Fire Brigade Station.

Soon, Fire and Emergency Services personnel from Hebbal Fire Brigade Station arrived at the spot and took nearly two hours to extinguish the fire and prevented it from spreading to adjoining shops. But by the time, the fire had destroyed the articles and other items in both the shops.

Meanwhile, Prabhavathi, speaking to Star of Mysore, said that goods worth Rs. 6-7 lakh has been destroyed in the fires and the Police and Fire personnel were estimating the loss. She suspected that short circuit may have caused the fire. Hebbal Police, who have registered a case in this regard, are investigating.

Vaastu-Feng Shui & Bio-energetics

By S.B.S.Surendran
Accredited Master Feng Shui Consultant

Guiding good fortunes

The entry to a building which is defined by the main door is of great importance in the practice of Feng Shui as it marks the impression that you leave to the outside world and the attitude of the occupants behind the door.

The popular belief that doors can be classified as lucky and unlucky has its own connotation and cannot be generalised as good and bad. The science of Feng Shui is very complex and it works on many levels, many of them unseen. An intelligent application of Feng Shui knowledge is what brings the best results hence a door can be transformed to bring in luck by carrying out few changes in and around the main door and pathway.

Prior to placing any Feng Shui cures for a front door that faces an unlucky Feng Shui direction, ensure that the front door is really well-taken care of, so that the Chi, or energy can flow in easily, do not place or suspend mirrors directly facing the main door. Also do explore the possibility of having a strong Feng Shui front door.

When the foyer, path way and front door are well taken care of, good Feng Shui can be activated quite easily and effectively to usher in prosperity into the home or office space. Once the primary requirements are met, placing Feng Shui cures or symbolism helps to empower the aspirations more effectively.

It is said that prior to "opportunities" knock on the door, the aim is to flood them with beauty, happiness, and comfort as this creates a home that shimmers and stands apart a cut above the rest. It's quite a common sight to see metal bells suspended on the main door in some of the homes in eastern part of the world.

In Feng Shui, the sound of bells symbolically announces the coming of good news and prosperity. Small bells made of metal, ceramic or crystal are often used. However, when you use bells as a Feng Shui cure, it should always be tied together with red thread or ribbon, as this is said to activate good luck. The most common practice is to tie three I ching coins together with a red ribbon as it symbolises big wealth.

1. Keep your main door mat clean and if the mat looks worn out replace it with a new one preferably semi circular one.

2. Turn on lights in front of your Feng Shui entrance attract good Chi and keep them turned on for the whole night or at least from twilight till bedtime.

3. Place a tall, healthy plant on either side of your front door. They should not block the entrance.

4. Hang white lights around your front porch to attract attention to golden opportunities.

5. Clear clutter from your yard, pathway and front porch to allow energy to flow into your home.

6. Install a water fountain on the right side of your main door to bring fortunate energy in every time you open the door.

Music teacher comes up with special calendar on World Music Day

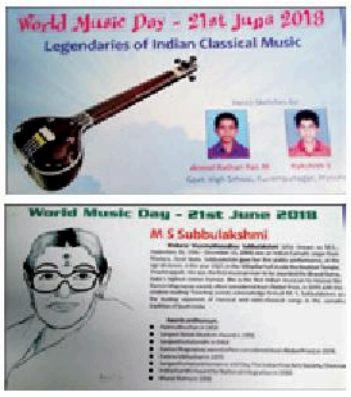
M.V. Anitha

Mysuru, June 25 (SBD&DM)- As part of World Music Day, a music teacher of the city has come up with a unique table calendar that explains the achievements of great musicians.

M.V. Anitha, a music teacher at Government High School in Kuvempunagar, is the one who has come up with the special calendar, with help from two of her students.

The table calendar was released by eminent personalities at a programme organised at the School marking the World Music Day recently. The table calendar features the achievements and life and times of 12 great musicians of the country who are 'Padma' awardees.

The legendary musicians, who feature in calendar, include M.S. Subbulakshmi, Pt. Ravishankar, Bhimsen Joshi, Semmangudi Srinivasa Iyer, M. Balamuralikrishna, Mallikarjun



Mansur, D.K. Pattammal, Gangubai Hangal, Umayalpuram K. Sivaraman and K.J. Yesudas.

Two school students M. Anmol Ratan Rao and S. Rakshith have drawn figures of the iconic musicians who feature in the calendar.

Talking to SOM on what prompted her to come up with this unique table calendar, Anitha said that the World Music Day is being celebrated only from the past few years. As she intended to propagate the achievements of the legendaries of Indian Classical music, she came up with this idea.

Pointing out that she had planned to celebrate Music Day in a special manner at her School, Anitha said that she thought of the idea when she saw some children drawing sketches of personalities with a pencil.

Later, the calendar, featuring pencil sketches of legendary musicians and also their achievements, was brought out with the help of her students at the School, she said and added that she was preparing for celebrating the next World Music Day in an outstanding manner.

Continuing, Anitha said that a music teacher's job is not restricted to merely teaching patriotic songs and Bhavageete to children.

Pointing out that involving children in music holds key to the success of music education, she said that at the same time, it was important to make children develop interest in music.

She thanked the School Head Master Prakash and her colleagues for extending their co-operation in bringing out this special table calendar.

Practicing yoga, music gives peace of mind: Dr. Indudhar Nirody

Well-known Hindustani classical singer Dr. Indudhar Nirody is seen lighting the lamp to inaugurate the World Music Day celebrations organised by Karnataka State Dr. Gangubai Hangal Music and Performing Arts University at Sri Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha on JLB Road in city on June 21.

Mysuru, June 25 (YDS&NNN)- The daily practice of yoga and music will bring a person peace of mind, said well-known Hindustani classical singer Dr. Indudhar Nirody.

He was speaking after inaugurating the World Music Day celebrations organised by Karnataka State Dr. Gangubai Hangal Music and Performing Arts University at Sri Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha on JLB Road in city on June 21 and said that if one practices yoga then one gets peace of mind, however, if one listens to music performed by others then there is tranquillity.

"I was always interested in music and hence from the age of 12, I performed on the stage. People used to appreciate me telling that I sing well. Once when I went to Mumbai, a Sangeetha Guru gave me an opportunity to perform. I was scared and sang with fear. However, I was happy that I sang better than the students present there," he said.

"Only when one is interested in music is it possible to learn. The students studying in Music University must not think that just because they have got a degree they know everything. They should continue to learn and also learn listening to others. One should also share what one has learnt with others, only then can our knowledge grow," said Dr. Nirody. Continuing, he said that one should always share only what one knows. One should not lie and by lying, a wrong message is sent.

Later, Bengaluru Karnatak classical singer Amritha Venkatesh performed.

Music University Registrar (Administration) Prof. Nagesh V. Bettakote, Registrar (Evaluation) Prof. R. Rajesh, Finance Officer Prof. H.N. Gayathri and others were present.

Before the programme, the artistes and music connoisseurs went on 'Naadayatra for world peace' from the University campus to Sri Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha.

Colombia in contention for Last 16, Poland Out

Colombia players celebrate the victory.

Keisuke Honda (centre) scores equaliser for Japan.

England's Harry Kane.

Kazan, June 25- Radamel Falcao, Yerry Mina and Juan Cuadrado scored their maiden World Cup goals as stylish Colombia boosted their last 16 hopes with a comprehensive 3-0 win over Poland on Sunday.

In a match destined to see the loser sent home after the group stages, Colombia overcame a nervous start against Adam Nawalka's men to move up to third place in Group H, one point behind Japan and Senegal. Poland became the first European side eliminated from the tourney.

Japan hold Senegal

Substitute Keisuke Honda equalised with 12 minutes left as Japan twice pegged back Senegal in a thrilling 2-2 draw on Sunday that leaves World Cup Group H wide open.

As it stands, Japan and Senegal have four points after two games, with Colombia and Poland on zero, though they have played a game less.

Midfielder Honda was the hero for Japan, scoring the deserved leveller after goalkeeper Khadim N'Diaye flapped at a cross.

England trounce Panama

England's team banished the ghost of past national failures with a record 6-1 thrashing of Panama on Sunday that included a hat-trick by Harry Kane and eased them into the Last 16.

England's biggest World Cup win, which included two penalties by Kane then a deflection off his heel, also guaranteed Belgium's berth in the next round.

It left the shell-shocked Central Americans out of their debut tournament with nine goals conceded in Group G.

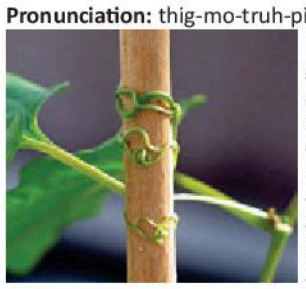
WORD OF THE DAY

Thigmotropism

Pronunciation: thig-mo-truh-piz-uh m



Meaning: Biology oriented growth of an organism in response to mechanical contact, as a plant tendril coiling around a string support.

Origin: Thigmotropism is a very rare word, restricted to biology, especially botany. All three of the components of the word come from Greek: thígma means “a touch”; trópos and trop are both nouns meaning “a turning, turn”; and -ism comes from the Greek suffixes -ismós, isma, used to form nouns denoting the result of an action. Thigmotropism entered English in the early 20th century. Thigmotropism is what makes a vine curl around a stake or an epiphyte cling to a branch in the wild.

Deb Wandell, "Flora Grubb reinvents the plant stand with Thigmotrope Perch," San Francisco Chronicle, January 30, 2015.

THE ODD WORD

Biome

Major ecological community with distinct climate and flora.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A pig in a poke

Meaning: An offer or deal that is foolishly accepted without being examined first.

Origin: 'Don't buy a pig in a poke' might seem odd and archaic language. It's true that the phrase is very old, but actually it can be taken quite literally and remains good advice. The advice being given is 'don't buy a pig until you have seen it'. This is enshrined in British commercial law as 'caveat emptor' - Latin for 'let the buyer beware'. This remains the guiding principle of commerce in many countries and, in essence, supports the view that if you buy something you take responsibility to make sure it is what you intended to buy. A pig in a poke is a sack or bag. It has a French origin as 'poque' and, like several other French words, its diminutive is formed by adding 'ette' or 'et' - hence 'pocket' began life with the meaning 'small bag'. Poke is still in use in several English-speaking countries, notably Scotland and USA, and describes just the sort of bag that would be useful for carrying a piglet to market. A pig that's in a poke might turn out to be no pig at all. If a merchant tried to cheat by substituting a lower value animal, the trick could be uncovered by letting the cat out of the bag. Many other European languages have a version of this phrase - most of them translating into English as a warning not to 'buy a cat in a bag'. The advice has stood the test of time and people have been repeating it in one form or the other for getting on for five hundred years, maybe longer.

QUOTE BOX

I am fond of pigs. Dogs look up to us. Cats look down on us. Pigs treat us as equals. —Winston Churchill
